Iowa Falls Airman Rescued from Sea

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. Navy fliers — one an Iowaan — guided their burning A6 intruder more than 120 miles to the safety of the Gulf of Tonkin after being hit by enemy antiaircraft fire on a bombing mission over North Vietnam, the Navy disclosed Friday.

Finally, the intense flames forced the two to bail out when they were within 1 1/2 miles of their aircraft carrier. The Navy did not say when the incident occurred.

The fliers, Lt. Bruce B. Bremner, 26, of Iowa Falls, the pilot, and Lt. John T. Fardy, 26, of Melrose, Mass., the bombardier-navigator, were plucked from the gulf by a helicopter.

Hit Target
Flying a midnight mission, their intruder was hit just after they had bombed a heavily defended enemy target.

"We took a direct hit by some kind of detonating shell and part of the instrument panel exploded in the cockpit with a loud thud," Bremner recalled. "I continued to break toward the sea and started to climb. About this time I saw a bright light in the mirror and I turned to see what it was. The left wing had burst into flames."

"We got over the water okay, and passed over a search and rescue destroyer all right so we decided to keep going, another A6 with us confirmed."

Errol was sentenced to five years at Fort Madison State Penitentiary for malicious injury to property at the Around-the-Clock Laundromat, 132 E. 11th St., and Larry Junior to seven years at the State Reformatory at Anamosa for passing a worthless $49 check at Smitty's Super Valu in July.

Stricken Area Offered Food By Government

DES MOINES — State Supt. Paul F. Johnston Thursday reminded that government commodity foods are available for feeding disaster victims.

"These government commodities are distributed through the school lunch section," Dr. Johnston said. "These foods may be diverted to emergency use when natural disasters strike."

"Disaster victims have first priority for USDA foods," he continued, "and we make every effort to have them immediately available."

USDA food needed during an emergency situation is released to the American Red Cross or other public and private disaster relief agencies.

E. E. Cowan, chief, school lunch, and Ellis Fischer, commodity supervisor, went to Charles City and Oelwein early Thursday morning to make these commodities available wherever needed.
